The Power of Three

A unique collaboration between Camrost Felcorp, ELTE, and Montana Labelle, has created an exclusive and rare SkyPenthouse Collection private residence at the top of Imperial Plaza.

A timeless appeal in the heart of Midtown

This stunning 3,500 square foot SkyPenthouse Collection private residence is perched atop the award-winning Imperial Plaza at Avenue Rd. & St. Clair, in the heart of Midtown. With an expansive floorplan and unparalleled panoramic city views overlooking the stunning tree-canopied escarpment, the developer, interior designer, and luxury home furnishing brand embarked upon the creation of a truly unique SkyPenthouse Collection luxury private residence that designer Montana Labelle describes as effortless.

“This unique sky home ended up being a fabulous marriage of three like-minded companies,” says Labelle. “The backdrop was set by Camrost, who provided an incredible space to work within. ELTE was the next step in bringing this vision to life, with their gorgeous furnishings, fixtures and accessories. We wanted this penthouse to have an air of modern sophistication, which we were definitely able to achieve.”

With completely unobstructed east-to-west skyline views bordered by floor-to-ceiling glass, as well as a 40 ft Great Room and private in-suite elevator access, “the suite’s furniture selects were very much guided by the suite itself,” says ELTE’s Andrew Metrick.

“This is a stunning space, and so the pieces chosen were intended to mirror what was beautiful to begin with.”

Metrick is credited with recently taking the ELTE brand in an expanded direction, with more diverse selections and new product lines that proved to be a well-made match for this unique SkyPenthouse Collection private residence.

“The collaboration between Camrost, ELTE and Montana Labelle felt like a perfect fit from the start,” says Joseph Feldman of Camrost Felcorp. “When all three teams share the same approach to style, quality and scale, things fall into place rather quickly.

This space turned out beautifully and we couldn’t be happier with the result.”

As the anchor of the Imperial Village master-planned community, Imperial Plaza offers residents the ease of a connected lifestyle, with an in-demand location and more than 30,000 square feet of luxury on-site amenities.

Nothing in the city of Toronto compares to the unique history, architecture and opulence of this historical and coveted Midtown landmark address. ■
